

Culture Pizza

*Here's how to make your own personal culture pizza. Remember, these 10 categories are just guides for filling in the slices of the pizza. Feel free to include your own ideas for categories!

Directions:

1. Each slice corresponds to one cultural trait or category.
2. Each slice should contain a combination of pictures and words:
*(For example, if you play soccer you can cut out a picture of a soccer ball from a magazine, draw a soccer ball, or put an actual photo of your soccer team on your slice; If you like to play baseball for instance, you might want to cut a photo of Mark McGwire out of a magazine and paste it onto your pizza).
*Label your pictures accordingly; write a brief description of each slice!
*Firmly attach all cutouts and pictures.
3. Clearly label each cultural trait/category at the "crust" portion of each slice.
4. Write neatly with a fine tip marker or colored pencil. This project should be an example of your best work!

SUGGESTED CATEGORIES:

Family members slice: Your name, parents' names, siblings' names, and other family members' names.

Family traditions slice: What holidays do you observe? Tell about your customs and traditions!

Clothing slice: What kind of clothes do you wear? What are your favorite sneakers?

Food slice: Are you a burger addict or a veggie fan? Tell us what your favorite foods are. It's one more slice of the culture pizza...

Job slice: What kind of job do you have now? What kind of job would you like to have in the future? What are your goals?

Sports and fun slice: What kind of sports do you like to watch? Play? What do you like to do with your friends? What clubs or activities have you joined?

Education slice: What are your favorite subjects in school? What are your education goals? College? Beauty school?

Technology slice: What is your favorite type of technology? A cell phone? Television? Computer?

Arts and Entertainment slice: What's your favorite type of architecture, music, art, and dance? What's your favorite movie, TV show, and book?

Politics slice: Which country do you think has the best government? What kind of political party would you join, if any?

You are NOT limited to these categories! Feel free to include cultural traits of your choosing!
